ABOUT US

NOSPlan is an organization oriented towards developing the community of planning students to become better planning professionals of tomorrow. It is a stage for interaction between the planning students and the entire planning fraternity at large. It provides a platform for student planners to raise their voices and project their ideas about current planning practices. Since the inception of its idea in 1971, NOSPlan Organisation of Students of Planning registered under the Societies Act, 1860 as an organization dedicated to developing the community of planning students to become better planning professionals of tomorrow. An essential part of the student activities hosted by the organisation is hosting competitions for member colleges where students across the nations display detailed and practical solutions for given problem statements in dedicated time.

COLLABORATION INVITATION

It gives us immense pleasure to inform you that NOSPlan Organisation of Students of Planning, humbly extends its hands towards collaboration with your institution. The collaboration aims at providing your institution and creative member students of the organization, to come together and work on real life problems while developing a vast set of ideas and solutions. The partnership aims to create an online competition using an on-ground problem or project handled by your institution and collect probable solutions from students across the country. Every entry and idea generated by the students shall be shared and assessed by your institution while also promoting your institution on all social media and outreach platforms hosted by the organisation.

The Collaboration shall produce a few exceptional articles, presentations, writeups and videos which will shape a general identity and role of planners. Something people can share & take pride in sharing. Putting the profession in good light, showing the responsibilities which planners are fulfilling & can fulfil. This helps in understanding what people are able to connect & relate to. We hope to meet you soon!
